(p) 'Andrey'

cv. Selection from amurensis. S: M. Wickenden, N: M. Wickenden, I: M. Wickenden, REG: M. Wickenden (2005). Selected from seed originally collected on Rikord Island in the Amur Straits near Vladivostok. Fls single, large, mauve self. Stems 15cm. Etymology: named after the Russian guide accompanying the registrant on his visit to Rikord Island. The ICRA is permitting the re-use of this epithet since the earlier use is considered to be a nineteenth century error for 'Audrey' (May). Has since been grown from seed and sold under this epithet: such plants have a darker eye but the originator is now uncertain if the original really was a self. He indicates that the seed-raised plants are 'very like the original clone'.
